4.2 Summarize data and trends from the data linked above, reflecting on the prompts below.

What has the provider learned from reviewing its Annual Reporting Measures over the past three years?

Discuss any emerging, long-term, expected, or unexpected trends? Discuss any programmatic/provider-wide changes being planned as a result of these data? Are benchmarks available for comparison? Are measures widely shared? How? With whom?

In addition to regular department meetings, our EPP collects and aggregates data to be analyzed by faculty and staff each term during Assessment Day. All of the data we go over is included in the Annual Report each year and is used to make decisions for the coming terms. We also have a Teacher Education Council comprised of faculty and staff from across campus that meets multiple times per term to discuss new candidate admissions, prior annual reports, specific data sets related to matters before the council, and planned changes in the Teacher Education Program. Furthermore, throughout the year, we have numerous meetings with candidates, university supervisors, cooperating teachers, and other stakeholders to discuss pertinent matters, solicit feedback, and help decide next steps. Some data has not become available in time for this report due to disruptions caused by COVID-19.

Section 5. Areas for Improvement, Weaknesses, and/or Stipulations

Summarize EPP activities and the outcomes of those activities as they relate to correcting the areas cited in the last Accreditation Action/Decision Report.

NCATE: Areas for Improvement related to Standard 4 cited as a result of the last CAEP review:

1	Candidates have limited opportunities to interact with faculty from diverse cultural	(ITP	(ADV
	backgrounds.	)	)
2	Candidates have limited opportunities to interact with diverse peers.	(ITP	(ADV

Being a small, liberal arts university in the upper-mid-west, geography works against us when it comes to diversity amongst our candidates and faculty. However, the Millicent Atkins School of Education recognizes the importance of diverse candidates and faculty populations. NSU's strategic plan places a strong emphasis on the development of a diverse campus. With increased institutional support, the unit hopes to attract more culturally diverse faculty ad candidate application pools. We are working with admissions to explore options for recruiting underrepresented populations in teacher education. We also work to recruit faculty from diverse backgrounds through nationwide employment advertisements which clearly state the university's commitment to recruitment of underrepresented groups.

Section 6. Continuous Improvement

CAEP Standard 5

The provider maintains a quality assurance system comprised of valid data from multiple measures, including evidence of candidates' and completers' positive impact on P-12 student learning and development. The provider supports continuous improvement that is sustained and evidence-based, and that evaluates the effectiveness of its completers. The provider uses the results of inquiry and data collection to establish priorities, enhance program elements and capacity, and test innovations to improve completers' impact on P-12 student learning and development.

CAEP Standard 5, Component 5.3

The provider regularly and systematically assesses performance against its goals and relevant standards, tracks results over time, tests innovations and the effects of selection criteria on subsequent progress and completion, and uses results to improve program elements and processes.

6.1 Summarize any data-driven EPP-wide or programmatic modifications, innovations, or changes planned, worked on, or completed in the last academic year. This is an opportunity to share targeted continuous improvement efforts your EPP is proud of. Focus on one to three major efforts the EPP made and the relationship among data examined, changes, and studying the results of those changes.

- Describe how the EPP regularly and systematically assessed its performance against its goals or the CAEP standards.
- What innovations or changes did the EPP implement as a result of that review?
- How are progress and results tracked? How will the EPP know the degree to which changes are improvements?

The following questions were created from the March 2016 handbook for initial-level programs sufficiency criteria for standard 5, component 5.3 and may be helpful in cataloguing continuous improvement.

- What quality assurance system data did the provider review?
- What patterns across preparation programs (both strengths and weaknesses) did the provider identify?
- How did the provider use data/evidence for continuous improvement?
- How did the provider test innovations?
- What specific examples show that changes and program modifications can be linked back to evidence/data?
- How did the provider document explicit investigation of selection criteria used for Standard 3 in relation to candidate progress and completion?
- How did the provider document that data-driven changes are ongoing and based on systematic assessment of performance, and/or that innovations result in overall positive trends of improvement for EPPs, their candidates, and P-12 students?

The following thoughts are derived from the September 2017 handbook for advanced-level programs How was stakeholders' feedback and input sought and incorporated into the evaluation, research, and decision-making activities?

One of our major changes toward continuous improvement last year was the adoption of the CPAST final evaluation, developed by Ohio State University. We piloted a formative version of the evaluation with our pre-student teachers in Fall 2018. Those candidates then piloted the full, summative version of the evaluation the following term, in their student teaching experience. The CPAST final evaluation is valid and reliable, per documentation provided by Ohio State. In exchange for use of the instrument and V&R documentation, we send Ohio State our results for the CPAST student teaching final evaluation to become part of the ongoing data pool. Validity and reliability are frequently updated based on changes to that data pool. One of the best aspects of the CPAST final evaluation is that it requires that the teacher candidate, cooperating teacher, and university supervisor all actively participate in the evaluation process and arrive at a consensus score for each indicator. Feedback from all parties on the effectiveness of this new process have already prompted minor changes to ensure that the process is as efficient and effective as possible. Following the pilot of the CPAST, we realized it made more sense to use the same (complete) version for both pre-student teaching and student teaching. This way, candidates would receive feedback for all indicators and have a full understanding of the expectations in the student teaching experience. We also added goal setting to the evaluation so candidates could specifically work toward improving any areas of weakness or concern.

Also, the implementation of the the CPAST final evaluation prompted the EPP to consider new methods for collecting data to improve timeliness and accuracy. We chose Formstack for building forms, collecting data, and organizing results. Since then, the EPP has worked toward converting all data collection to Formstack. At this time, approximately 90% of the EPP's data collection forms have been converted to Formstack. Any remaining assessment instruments are in the process of being converted but all had been previously converted to an alternative electronic collection method: Excel spreadsheets within shared-access folder on our university's network. The EPP is now "paperless" in terms of data collection.

Section 7: Transition

In the transition from legacy standards and principles to the CAEP standards, CAEP wishes to support a succe transition to CAEP Accreditation. The EPP Annual Report offers an opportunity for rigorous and thoughtful r regarding progress in demonstrating evidence toward CAEP Accreditation. To this end, CAEP asks for the foinformation so that CAEP can identify areas of priority in providing guidance to EPPs.

7.1 Assess and identify gaps (if any) in the EPP's evidence relating to the CAEP standards and the progre on addressing those gaps. This is an opportunity to share the EPP's assessment of its evidence. It may hell the Readiness for Accreditation Self-Assessment Checklist, the CAEP Accreditation Handbook (for initial lex programs), or the CAEP Handbook: Guidance on Self-Study Reports for Accreditation at the Advanced Level

If there are no identified gaps, click the box next to "No identified gaps" and proceed to question 7.2.

CAEP Accreditation Policy

Policy 6.01 Annual Report

An EPP must submit an Annual Report to maintain accreditation or accreditation-eligibility. The report is opened for data entry each year in January. EPPs are given 90 days from the date of system availability to complete the report.

CAEP is required to collect and apply the data from the Annual Report to:

- 1. Monitor whether the EPP continues to meet the CAEP Standards between site visits.
- 2. Review and analyze stipulations and any AFIs submitted with evidence that they were addressed.
- 3. Monitor reports of substantive changes.
- 4. Collect headcount completer data, including for distance learning programs.
- 5. Monitor how the EPP publicly reports candidate performance data and other consumer information on its website.

CAEP accreditation staff conduct annual analysis of AFIs and/or stipulations and the decisions of the Accreditation Council to assess consistency.

Failure to submit an Annual Report will result in referral to the Accreditation Council for review. Adverse action may result.

Policy 8.05 Misleading or Incorrect Statements

The EPP is responsible for the adequacy and accuracy of all information submitted by the EPP for accreditation purposes, including program reviews, self-study reports, formative feedback reports and addendums and site visit report responses, and information made available to prospective candidates and the public. In particular, information displayed by the EPP pertaining to its accreditation and Title II decision, term, consumer information, or candidate performance (e.g., standardized test results, job placement rates, and licensing examination rates) must be accurate and current.

When CAEP becomes aware that an accredited EPP has misrepresented any action taken by CAEP with respect to the EPP and/or its accreditation, or uses accreditation reports or materials in a false or misleading manner, the EPP will be contacted and directed to issue a corrective communication. Failure to correct misleading or inaccurate statements can lead to adverse action.
