The decision of whether or not to award an honorary degree shall be made as soon as possible after December 31 each year. If the Selection Committee elects to award an honorary degree to a nominee, that nominee shall be contacted and his/her acceptance of the honorary degree assured contingent upon approval by the Board of Regents. After such assurance from the nominee has been obtained, the President shall request the Board of Regents to authorize the granting of such a degree. After approval by the Board of Regents, the person selected to receive the honorary degree shall be notified and invited to attend the Northern State University Spring Commencement, at which time the honorary degree will be awarded.

9. Prior to an announcement by the President of Northern State University, all matters relating to Honorary Degrees shall be confidential.

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAM AND ACADEMIC POLICIES

ASSESSMENT OF GENERAL EDUCATION AND ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

General Education

The assessment of the general education program is conducted in conjunction with BOR Academic Affairs Guidelines 2.3.9.A. The system general education requirements (SGRs) are assessed on a three-year cycle, with two goals being assessed each year. Each year, faculty who teach in the two goals being assessed work with the Director of Assessment to collect artifacts and assess student learning in the two selected SGRs.

Academic Programs

Each academic program develops its own student learning outcomes (SLOs) and follows its own internally developed assessment plan to conduct collection and analysis of assessment data throughout each academic year. All academic programs are required to develop program SLOs and each undergraduate program is required to include at least five of the BOR cross-curricular skills in the program SLOs. The results of these efforts, as well as possible program modifications prompted by the analysis, are submitted as an annual assessment report to the Director of Assessment by January 1 of the following year. The Director of Assessment and the Assessment Committee then use the spring term to review the submitted reports and have follow-up communication between the academic unit and the provost's office as necessary.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM REVIEW

Program Reviews at Northern State University follow the requirements outlined in BOR Policy 2:34 and BOR Academic Affairs Guidelines 2.3.4.A. There are three levels of Program Review: the Annual Program Health Analytics/Evaluation, the Year-Three Mid-Cycle Analytics/Evaluation, and the Year-Six Comprehensive Program Review.

A Program Review OVERVIEW, NSU Policy 2.13.2, is available on the Academic Policies and Guidelines portal.

The Program Review schedule is located on the NSU portal at MyNSU>Faculty Resources.

Annual Program Health Analytics/Evaluation

The Annual Program Health Analytics/Evaluation is an annual review internal to NSU. It is based on quantitative data provided to the University by the BOR and examines program enrollment, student success, instructional activity, faculty, and revenue/expense. The narrative will evaluate the program based on quantitative and qualitative data, to work toward program success. Narrative length is one to three pages, max, excluding the BOR data tables. The Department Chair completes the evaluation. It is due to the Dean for review via email by March 1, and due to the Provost via email by April 1.

Year-Three Mid-Cycle Analytics/Evaluation

The Year-Three Mid-Cycle Analytics/Evaluation is a 3-year cycle review internal to NSU. It is based on quantitative data provided to the University by the BOR and examines program enrollment, student success, instructional activity, faculty, and revenue/expense. The narrative will evaluate the program based on quantitative and qualitative data, to work toward program success. Narrative length is one to ten pages, max, excluding the BOR data tables. The Department Chair completes the evaluation. It is due to the Dean for review via email by March 1, and due to the Provost via email by April 1.

Year-Six Comprehensive Program Review

The Year-Six Comprehensive Program Review is a 6-year cycle review prepared by NSU and submitted to the BOR. It is an extensive analytical and reflective process that analyzes program effectiveness to identify strengths, opportunities for improvement, and priorities for the future. This review involves an external reviewer and work on setting up the external review should be started early in the academic year. The Director of Institutional Research provides support. The review follows the structure specified in BOR Academic Affairs Guidelines section 2.3.4.A\(3\). The link to the BOR Form is provided at this link. The Department Chair completes both the Full Program Review and the BOR Form. These are due to the Dean for review via email by March 1, and due to the Provost via email by April 1. The Provost will send the review to the BOR Office by May 1.

Externally-accredited Programs

For programs accredited by external accrediting agencies, e.g., CAEP, ACBSP, NASM, the BOR Comprehensive Program Review is conducted in the year after the accrediting body visit report is provided, based on the accrediting body review cycle. Make sure you provide the accreditor name on line 1 of the BOR Program Review Form 4.2. For externally-accredited programs, the department chair fills out Academic Guidelines Form 4.2 only and does not complete the normal Comprehensive Program Review as described in Academic Affairs Guideline 4.2. The external review serves as the Comprehensive Program Review.

Student Learning Outcomes and Assessment Cycle

ALL graduate and undergraduate programs must identify student learning outcomes (SLOs) for their programs. The number of SLOs is recommended to be between 5 and 9. All undergraduate academic programs are required by the BOR to include at least five of the BOR “cross-curricular skills” in their SLOs. These are described in BOR Academic Affairs Guidelines 2.3.7.D.

The BOR cross-curricular skills:

- Inquiry and Analysis
- Critical and Creative Thinking
- Information Literacy
- Teamwork
- Problem Solving
- Civic Knowledge and Engagement

- Intercultural Knowledge
- Ethical Reasoning
- Foundational Lifelong Learning Skills
- Integrative Learning
- Access and Opportunity

Note that each undergraduate program must include at least 5 of these BOR SLOs. Many academic programs will also want to identify their own program-specific SLOs, so you may develop an additional 1-4 SLOs for your program, giving a total of 5-9 SLOs.

Expectations from the Higher Learning Commission (HLC) on Program Reviews is that they will demonstrate use of a complete Assessment Cycle:

1. Develop/refine Program Student Learning Outcomes SLOs. 5-9 SLOs.
2. Create a Curriculum Map: Map SLOs to the Program curriculum (courses).
3. Conduct Direct Measures of Student Learning to assess student progress on identified SLOs (e.g., an assignment embedded in a course, ETS Major Field Test, ACS test). These data can be collected in the Annual Assessment Reports.
4. Use assessment data to evaluate student learning outcomes and propose program/curricular improvements.
5. Implement improvements in pedagogy or content based on assessment data.
6. Return to Step 3 to measure if adjustments were effective.

UNIVERSITY CATALOG AND ACADEMIC POLICIES

The NSU Course Catalog is maintained by the Office of Academic Affairs and is available online, including a section with academic information and policies. Academic Calendars and Important Dates are set by the BOR and NSU Registrar and also available online.

Academic Forms

Academic forms are available at MyNSU>Faculty Resources>Registrar. Forms available include:

- Academic Amnesty Form
- Academic Petition Forms
- Add Slip
- Application for Credit by Portfolio-exam
- Application for Placement Credit
- Coreq-Prereq Override Form
- Course Substitution Form
- Grade Change Form
- Grading Instructions
- Incomplete Grade Assignment Form
- Incomplete Grade Extension
- Instructor Consent
- Permission for Term Overload
- Permission to Enroll Elsewhere

- Permission to Overlap Classes
- Program Approval Form
- Reinstatement Appeal After Academic Suspension
- Special Project Independent Study Approval

Verifying Class Enrollment

Class lists. Class lists are available by accessing the Faculty Dashboard in Self Service Banner (SSB). Class enrollment information is updated as changes are made. After registration is closed, faculty are responsible for checking electronic class lists against class attendance. Discrepancies must be reported to the Registrar's Office. Faculty are also responsible for notifying the Registrar's Office when a student discontinues attendance but is still listed as enrolled in the SSB roster. Desire2Learn is automatically updated when changes are made in BANNER (the official student record system).

Early alert grades. Done after first three (3) weeks of class via the Student Support Software Platform, which transitions to EAB Navigate in summer 2021. EAB notifications go to the students and their advisors. The Student Success Center will provide summary reports of deficiencies to advisors, academic deans, Retention Office, Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Midterm deficiencies. Are to be entered in EAB and notice is provided to students and advisor. Reports are generated by the Student Success Center.

Last Day of Attendance

NSU must record the last date of academic activity whenever reporting a final grade of F, U, or RU. Academically related activities include but are not limited to:

- physically attending a class where there is an opportunity for direct interaction between the instructor and students
- submitting an academic assignment
- taking an exam, an interactive tutorial or computer-assisted instruction
- attending a study group that is assigned by the school
- participating in an online discussion about academic matters, or
- initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a question about the academic subject studied in the course

Academic Probation and Suspension Policy

The Academic Probation and Suspension Policy is available in the Academic Information section of the Course Catalog.

Examinations

The university encourages each faculty member to give frequent examinations during the semester. A final examination or appropriate academically rigorous culminating activity during the final exam period is required. Final examinations are to be retained for a minimum of six weeks into the next regular term or returned to the student.

Semester Examination Policy

1. The term "examination" is understood to mean a meaningful and academically rigorous culminating activity or written or oral examination.
2. The first and last periods of each final examination day have been reserved for testing multiple sections of the same course. Professors who so desire shall reserve these time periods by making arrangements with the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs the previous semester. Multiple sections of three or more shall have priority.
3. Face-to-face evening class (5-10 p.m.) examinations shall be given at the regular class meeting time during semester examination week.
4. Online class examinations must be scheduled sometime during final exam week, beginning with the Sunday prior to final exam week and culminating at 5:00 pm CT on Friday of final exam week. Online exams scheduled to be taken synchronously must follow the university's official final exam schedule. Faculty members have the option to make the online final exam or culminating activity available to students over the course of several days within the final exam week, to accommodate the schedules of online learners.
5. Students may request exception to the examination schedule only if they are scheduled for more than three examinations in any one-day or if there are personal emergencies. Students must provide written approval from the professor to the appropriate college/school dean, who will then notify the professor of his/her final approval. Arrangements for taking an examination other than at the regularly scheduled time must be made by the student and the professor at least one week in advance, with the exception of emergency situations.
6. Because face-to-face classes meet several times each week, the university's official final exam schedule refers to the first meeting of the class. Classes scheduled over two or more class periods will be tested according to the first period scheduled (i.e., classes meeting 9:30 to 10:45 TT will be tested during the block assigned to 9:00 classes meeting regularly on Tuesday).
7. If other than the regularly assigned room is to be used, space must be cleared through the Office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs.
8. Final exams and culminating activities cannot be scheduled during the week preceding the examination schedule (the last week of classes). Each professor must announce in class and post on the Learning Management System (LMS) the day, hour, and location of the final exam or culminating activity at least one week before the first date of final exams on the university's official final exam schedule. Faculty teaching online courses must include specific details regarding online final exams and culminating activities in the course syllabus and on the Learning Management System (LMS), including proctoring information, if applicable.

9. Each semester the university's official final examination schedule will be rotated one day ahead.

Procedure for Submitting Grades

The NSU Grading Instructions are available at MyNSU>Faculty Resources.

Student Academic Misconduct

BOR Policy 2:9.2 describes the student academic misconduct policy for students who are suspected of cheating or plagiarism.

The Student Academic Misconduct Process Map provides a flow diagram of the process for reporting student academic misconduct.

Academic Misconduct Informal Resolution Form - Complete and submit online

Student Academic Appeal Policy

There are three forms for submission of different types of student academic petitions:

- Academic Policy Exception Petition Form
- Petition for Late Drop/Withdrawal with or without Refund
- Final Grade/Academic Decision Appeal Form

These forms are available at the MyNSU student portal page at Academics>Registrar.

The Academic Policy Exception Petition Form is for petitioning for an exception to an academic policy. This form should be completed and submitted to records@northern.edu or be delivered to the Registrar's Office. These petitions must be brought within thirty calendar days from the date of the pertinent deadline or end of the pertinent course or academic term. Decisions of the Registrar are final.

The Petition for Late Drop/Withdrawal Form is for petitioning for a late course drop or withdrawal. This form should be completed and submitted to records@northern.edu or be delivered to the Registrar's Office. These petitions must be brought within thirty calendar days from the date of the pertinent deadline or end of the pertinent course or academic term. Decisions of the Registrar are final.

The Final Grade/Academic Decision Appeal Form is submitted as part of a Student Academic Appeal involving a final course grade or other action that has similar finality, such as denial of admission to an undergraduate major or refusal to permit the continuation of an academic program. See below.

Student Academic Appeal Procedure

NSU's Student Academic Appeal Policy is derived from BOR Policy 2:9.

1. Timing and Substantive Conditions on Appeals

A. Academic appeals may be brought only by students who were registered during the term in which the disputed action was taken.

B. Academic appeals may be brought only from final course grades or other actions that have similar finality, such as, without limitation, denial of admission to an undergraduate major or refusal to permit the continuation of an academic program.

C. Academic appeals must be brought within thirty calendar days from the date that the student received notification of the action. If this action occurs within fifteen calendar days before the end of the term, the student must bring an appeal within fifteen calendar days after the beginning of the academic term (fall, spring, or summer) following the term in which the challenged action was taken. A student may petition the provost for an extension of this timeline if circumstances prevented a timely appeal.

D. Academic appeals may be brought to challenge a grade or academic decision typically on one or more of three grounds:

- 1) if an academic decision resulted from administrative error or from misapprehension of some material fact or circumstance, e.g., evaluation reflected an error in the examination or question itself or misread the student's written response;
- 2) if an academic decision departs substantially from accepted academic standards for the discipline and the university; or
- 3) if circumstances suggest that an academic decision reflected the prejudiced or capricious consideration of student opinions or conduct unrelated to academic standards, of student status protected under Board policy, state or federal civil rights law or of other considerations that are inconsistent with the bona fide exercise of academic judgment.

2. Academic Appeal Procedure

A. A student should first attempt to informally resolve the issue with the instructor of the course. After an attempt at informal resolution between the student and faculty member, any student with an academic appeal shall first file a written appeal on the Final Grade/Academic Decision Appeal Form with the faculty member involved and during a scheduled conference shall request relief from that person. This filing must occur within thirty calendar days from the date that the student received notification of the action. The instructor or academic decision-maker(s) shall listen to the student's concerns, shall provide explanation, and shall change the grade or reconsider the decision if the student provides convincing argument for doing so. If the course is an online course, the scheduled conference may be made via video conference, e.g., Zoom. A written decision by the faculty member must be made and sent to the student by official NSU email within ten (10) school days after the written appeal was filed. The decision of the faculty member shall also be sent to department chair and division dean within ten (10) school days after the written appeal has been filed, using official NSU email.

B. If, in the opinion of the student, the faculty member's decision does not satisfactorily resolve the appeal, within five (5) school days of receipt of the decision the student shall file the written Final Grade/Academic Decision Appeal Form with the appropriate department chairperson to request relief. Within two (2) days of receipt of the written appeal, the chairperson shall send a copy of the Appeal Form to the division dean and the faculty member. The department chair shall discuss the appeal with the student, faculty member, and division dean, individually. If the course is an online course, the scheduled conference may be made via video conference, e.g., Zoom. At this point the faculty member, the department chairperson, the division dean, or the student may request that a discussion of the appeal include all four parties. The request of any one of the individuals shall be honored. The decision of the department chair shall be sent to the faculty member and the student within ten (10) school days after the written appeal has been filed, using official NSU email. Any deadlines in this procedure for the department chair that fall outside of the normal fall and spring semesters, e.g., during the winter break or summer terms, shall be set to the first week of the next semester.

C. If a chairperson's grade or decision, in the role as a faculty member, is being appealed, and if resolution satisfactory to the student is not reached as outlined in step A, the written Final Grade/Academic Decision Appeal Form shall be filed with the appropriate division dean and procedures similar to those outlined in step B shall be followed.

D. If the decision is not satisfactory to the student, the student may forward the Final Grade/Academic Decision Appeal Form to the Academic Appeal Committee within ten (10) school days after receiving the faculty chair's/division dean's decision. The student shall send the Appeal Form to the Academic Appeal Committee via an email to the provost's official NSU email on the student's official NSU email. A meeting of the Academic Appeal Committee must be convened within ten (10) and no less than five (5) school days after the appeal has been filed with the provost. The committee must reach a decision within ten (10) days after its first meeting. Any deadlines in this procedure for the Academic Appeal Committee that fall outside of the normal fall and spring semesters, e.g., during the winter break or summer terms, shall be set to the first week of the next semester.

E. The composition of the Academic Appeal Committee is described above in the NSU Faculty Handbook.

F. The committee shall follow the procedures below:

- Hearings are closed.
- The faculty member and the student shall have access to each other's written statements prior to the hearing and have the right to offer rebuttal to each other's comments at the hearing.
- The faculty member and the student may present appropriate testimony and may be advised by a person of their choice.

- During the hearing and in the presence of the faculty member and the student, the committee may request testimony from at least one consultant from the faculty member's academic discipline.
- The committee or its advisor may ask relevant questions of the faculty member and the student. The faculty member and advisor as well as the student and advisor may ask relevant questions of the committee. The committee members, the faculty member, the student and advisors may ask questions relevant to all participants' testimony.
- Any records of the faculty member or the student deemed pertinent to the appeal shall be made available to the committee upon its request. The confidentiality of these records shall be protected.
- If the course is an online course, the student and their advisor may be invited to participate in the hearing via video conference, e.g., Zoom.

G. The decision of the committee and the reasons for it shall be reported in writing to the faculty member and the student, with copies being sent to the Registrar, division dean, and department chair. The report is to be sent within at least ten (10) school days following the hearing, communicated via official NSU email. If an action or decision of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, in the role of faculty member, is being appealed, the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs shall act as chairperson of the committee. The decision of the Academic Appeal Committee is final.

SEMESTER CLASS SCHEDULE

Class schedules are prepared by the coordinators/department chairs/academic deans and entered by the department secretary as specified by the administrative calendar. The official schedule must be followed in all classes unless written approval for the change has been obtained in advance from the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs.

STUDENT ATTENDANCE/CLASS ABSENCE POLICIES

Northern State University faculty members have the academic freedom to develop their own policies on class attendance. Copies of the instructor's attendance policy must be included in the class syllabus and posted in the Learning Management System (LMS) for all students within the first week of each course. The policy shall be stated in terms of the objectives of the course and shall address student absences due to family or individual emergencies, student illness, weather conditions, official college (or high school for dual credit) related activities, unexcused absences, and any other conditions. The instructor shall also include policies regarding make-up work and how attendance (and/or absence) will affect grades.

Faculty are also responsible for notifying the Registrar's Office when a student discontinues attendance but is still listed as enrolled in the SSB roster. To ensure that financial aid is properly returned the following will be used:

Academic attendance and attendance at an academically related activity

A school that is not required to take attendance may always use as a withdrawal date a student's last date of attendance at an academically related activity.

The school (not the student) must document –

- that the activity is academic or academically related, and
- the student’s attendance at the activity.

Academically related activities include but are not limited to —

- physically attending a class where there is an opportunity for direct interaction between the instructor and students;
- submitting an academic assignment;
- taking an exam, an interactive tutorial or computer-assisted instruction;
- attending a study group that is assigned by the school;
- participating in an online discussion about academic matters; and
- initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a question about the academic subject studied in the course.

Academically related activities do not include activities where a student may be present but not academically engaged, such as —

- living in institutional housing;
- participating in the school’s meal plan;
- logging into an online class without active participation; or
- participating in academic counseling or advisement.

Participation in academic counseling and advising are no longer considered to be academic attendance or attendance at an academically related activity.

Documenting attendance when students are enrolled in distance education courses

In a distance education context, documenting that a student has logged into an online class is not sufficient, by itself, to demonstrate academic attendance by the student. A school must demonstrate that a student participated in class or was otherwise engaged in an academically related activity, such as by contributing to an online discussion or initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a course-related question.

The Office of the Dean of Students will notify professors only when students must be absent from class due to a death in the family, hospitalization or other illness expected to exceed three class days. The purpose of the notification is to provide information and not to validate the reason given for the absence. When a student is absent from class because of a Northern State University activity, the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs will, at the request of the sponsoring faculty, notify the student's instructors that he or she is permitted to make up the work.

Progress Reports

Faculty are responsible for providing notice of deficiencies on all freshman and sophomore students at mid-term. While the other BOR schools enter DEF (Deficient) grades as appropriate in Banner, NSU has been given permission to use the EAB system. EAB flags generate an email to the student and to their advisor.

Early Alert

To improve retention, beginning fall 2006 an Early Alert grading system was put into place. Much like the mid-term deficiencies already done, this gives students, advisors, etc. and earlier notification of problems. The Early Alert system is required for all 000, 100- and 200- level courses, and its purpose is to provide students with notification of deficiency after three weeks of class. The challenge of determining that a student is having serious difficulty after such a short time is recognized. This determination might be based on attendance, homework, quizzes, class participation, or an examination. Faculty members should also use this to report non-attendance. NSU has developed a 3-week EAB Survey, which basically allows faculty to indicate if a student is attending/participating or not. Faculty are encouraged to do this for all level of students.

ONLINE AND CONTINUING EDUCATION

Members of the regular faculty or adjunct faculty and staff may offer regular catalog courses through an online modality, or continuing education classes on the NSU campus, at off-campus sites, and through online delivery. The decision to offer an online or continuing education course is made by the appropriate Department Chair and Dean. The Office of Online and Continuing Education and academic Dean shall be consulted before a faculty member develops, announces or teaches any online, continuing education, or non-traditional course. The Office of Online and Continuing Education is responsible for collecting and processing registrations and payments for online, continuing education, and non-traditional courses, but will also provide logistical and marketing support if requested by the faculty member. Chairs may assign faculty members online courses as part of their normal teaching load or in addition to their regular course load with additional remuneration possible according to BOR policy, as determined by the department chair/dean.

CONFERENCES, CLINICS, WORKSHOPS, SEMINARS, AND SPECIAL EVENTS

When a staff member, committee, or organization wishes to sponsor a special event at the university, all arrangements must be coordinated with the applicable facility coordinator. When planning such events, effort shall be made to schedule them on days or hours that will not interfere with classes at the university. Contact the facilities management office for temporary parking permits and parking arrangements.

SCHEDULING OF CLASSROOMS AND OFFICES

The Office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, in cooperation with the academic Deans, makes academic assignments for classrooms for regularly scheduled instruction and for workshops, and assigns faculty offices. Building schedulers coordinate all other events for their respective buildings. Scheduling for computer labs and distance delivery studios is coordinated through Technology Services.

OFFICE HOURS

During the academic year, administrative office hours are maintained from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Summer office hours are 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Each faculty member is expected to post and maintain regular on-campus, in person office hours and shall announce to students during the first week of the term the office hours schedule and location of the office. The schedule shall be posted in the course syllabus, in the LMS, and on, or adjacent to, the faculty member's office door, so as to be easily accessible by students.

Faculty members are expected to maintain a minimum of six office hours extended over at least four days of the week (effective January 11, 2012).

Adjunct faculty members are expected to provide a total of two office hours per week. These may be provided face-to-face or via remote means, e.g., Zoom. If an adjunct faculty member does not have a university office and would like a place to meet with students face-to-face, they should contact their department chair to locate a suitable meeting place on campus.

FACULTY WORKLOAD

See the Faculty Policy Manual for details on faculty workload.

MEETING CLASSES

It is the responsibility of the faculty member to meet all classes promptly and to present a full period of significant instruction. When there is an illness, the department chair/academic dean must be notified so that arrangements for covering the class can be made. The department chair/academic dean reports the arrangements to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs. All absences for either personal or professional reasons must be cleared in advance with the department chair/academic dean so that the instructional program can be continued. See Faculty Absences, below.

FACULTY GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

See BOR Policy 4.4.9 for the faculty grievance policy.

CANCELLATION OF CLASSES DUE TO SEVERE WEATHER

The President establishes the reporting procedure with the media. In addition, the Campus Alert System will also be used to notify staff and students, by telephone, email or text message.

PROCEDURE TO FOLLOW IN THE EVENT OF A BOMB THREAT

The person receiving a threat is to record the exact wording of the threat and the time it was received; to attempt to get as much information about the location, time, and other details as possible; immediately call 9-911 to notify the Aberdeen City Police.

EVACUATING A BUILDING DUE TO SOUNDING OF FIRE ALARM

The fire alarm bells signal evacuation of a building for a fire, fire drill, bomb threat, or any other reason.

Employees should close all windows and doors to their offices and leave the building immediately. Specific instructions for evacuation are provided for each building; however, the following general policy will provide direction in most instances.

When the fire alarm sounds occupants of the building are to walk (not run) down the halls and stairs in single file. They will leave the building through the closest exit to their respective areas. Sufficient room must be provided at all times on stairways and in the halls for fire fighters in case of a fire. Occupants will not stand close to the building during a fire drill. Space must be provided to allow fire-fighting equipment to enter the building. An all-clear announcement will be made before re-entering the building(s).

SCHEDULING NON-STAFF SPEAKERS FOR CLASS LECTURES

When persons who are not regular faculty members at NSU are invited to lecture to regularly scheduled classes during hours when credit is being earned, the college/school dean is to be notified at least one week in advance of the speaker. Information to be provided includes the name of the person, topic of presentation, affiliation of the individual, and date and time of the scheduled appearance. Academic units shall maintain a list of guest speakers for each academic year and submit it to the Office of Academic Affairs monthly.

COURSE SYLLABI

Each department or program must have on file with the college/school dean a current course syllabus for each course listed in the catalog under that department or school.

The NSU Syllabus Guidelines and Template are available at the Academic Policies and Guidelines section of the MyNSU portal.

Format content for Course Syllabi as required by the BOR: BOR Policy 2.7.3.

CURRICULUM REVISION

Required forms and Board of Regents Academic Affairs Council process are described in BOR Academic Program Guidelines, 2.3.2.

NSU's Academic Affairs Committee has also posted process and procedures on myNSU>Committees and Councils>Academic Affairs Committee.

Northern State University's Academic Affairs Committee and Graduate Council require a syllabus to be included in the New Course Request.

The Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs manages curriculum development at NSU. All undergraduate curricular proposals must be submitted to the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs and Director of Graduate Studies for posting to the Academic Affairs Committee or Graduate Council following the schedule set and disseminated in August each year. All forms shall be submitted electronically.

Curriculum proposals shall be discussed at the department level and forwarded to the college/school curriculum committee then to the chair and finally the dean before submission to the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs and Director of Graduate Studies. Faculty, chairs, and deans are encouraged to discuss new programs with the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs early in the program development process. The Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs and Director of Graduate Studies works with the BOR staff to receive feedback on curriculum proposals. Documentation that curriculum proposals have been reviewed by the department faculty, department chair and dean is required before submitting to the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs and Director of Graduate Studies for posting to the Academic Affairs Committee or Graduate Council.

It is the department's responsibility to check the availability of any new course number to ensure that the number is not already in use by another institution. This may be done by checking the Course Inventory Report. It is the department's responsibility to recommend CIP codes for new programs.

Departments are responsible for contacting other BOR institutions for approval (please copy the appropriate Vice President for Academic Affairs and NSU's Academic Affairs Office) to offer an existing course or make any change to a common course. The emails shall be included in the proposals.

TEXTBOOKS

NSU selected Akademos as its platform provider to manage the university's textbook adoptions and sales beginning Spring 2021. Akademos offers convenient online ordering and substantial cost-savings for students. Their vast online selection includes new, used, eBook, OER, and rental materials at significant savings, with 24x7x365 accessibility. Additionally, the comprehensive Akademos platform provides faculty and administration with advanced and innovative tools for managing all aspects of course materials adoption. FACULTY AWARDS

Northern State University is committed to excellence in teaching, learning, and scholarship. To recognize our faculty's commitment to excellence, there are two mechanisms for faculty awards: nomination and application.

Faculty Awards by Nomination

- 1) NSU Foundation Faculty Excellence Award (one per year)
- 2) NSU Outstanding Early Career Faculty Award (one per year)

Nominations are welcome from any member of the Northern State University community, and letters may be written by an individual or a group of individuals. Nominations from students are welcome. All nominations are due by 5:00 pm (CDT) March 30.

To nominate a Northern State University full-time teaching faculty member for the NSU Foundation Faculty Excellence Award or the NSU Outstanding Early Career Faculty Award, please send a compelling letter of nomination to the Academic Affairs Office. In the letter, please indicate the specific award for which you are nominating the person and the specific reasons for the nomination.

- Please save the file name in this format:
Award[Excellence or EarlyCareer]_FacultlastnameFacultyfirstname_Nominatorlastname
For example, a nomination for faculty member Katherine Watson for the NSU Foundation Faculty Excellence award written by nominator John Keating would be:
Excellence_WatsonKatherine_Keating
- Email the nomination letter as a file attachment (PDF or Word) to the Academic Affairs administrative assistant.
- Nominations must be received from the Northern State University email address of the nominator. Nominations from email addresses other than the nominator's will not be accepted.

Award Criteria:

The NSU Foundation Faculty Excellence Award recognizes faculty for excellence in teaching and learning, a sustained commitment to faculty service, and achievements in research and creativity within their discipline.

- Nominees may be at the rank of professor, associate professor, instructor, or lecturer and must have served a minimum of six years as a member of the Northern State University teaching faculty. Someone who is in their seventh year is eligible; someone who has completed fewer than six years of teaching service at Northern is not.

- Nominees must have a stellar record of teaching and advising, must have been significantly and consistently involved in a variety of service roles through department, college/school, university, and/or community service activities, and need to be meaningfully engaged in research and creativity in their discipline.
- Any full-time faculty member who has not received this award (or the formerly named outstanding faculty member award) previously and who meets the number of years of service requirement is eligible for this award.
- In addition to a monetary award ($1,000), the recipient receives a commemorative award from the NSU Foundation.
- Current NSU faculty who already won the Outstanding Faculty Member award are not eligible to win the NSU Foundation Faculty Excellence Award. An updated list of prior awardees is maintained by the Office of Academic Affairs.

The NSU Outstanding Early Career Faculty Award is presented to an early career full-time faculty member who demonstrates a strong record and commitment to excellence in teaching, research, and service.

- Nominees must be at the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, instructor, or lecturer who has between two and six years of full-time teaching service at Northern State University. Someone who is in their sixth year is eligible, but someone who has already completed six years of service is not. Please make sure the individual you are nominating for the NSU Outstanding Early Career Faculty Award is eligible.
- Nominees must have a strong record of teaching and advising, begun contributing to the research and creative activity in their discipline, and will have demonstrated a commitment to service in the department, college/school, or university.
- In addition to the monetary award ($1,000), the recipient receives two Wolves Club tickets to NSU athletic events for the next academic year (Wolves Club tickets cannot be resold and are not transferrable).

Selection Process:

A committee of 9, including: four (4) deans (or their designees), the three (3) most recent NSU Foundation Faculty Excellence Award winners (or Outstanding Faculty Member award winners) who are still actively teaching at Northern State University, the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs, will review all nominations and select the recipients of both awards as a committee.

Winners of both awards will be recognized at the Northern State University spring commencement. By tradition, the winner of the NSU Foundation Faculty Excellence Award will deliver the commencement address at the Northern State University winter commencement. The winner of the NSU Outstanding Early Career Faculty Award will deliver the Wolf Talk during new student orientation in August. If either recipient is not available to deliver said address, the other recipient will be invited to do so.

Faculty can take either the 10-week foundational course or the 12-week advanced online teaching course. Information on these grants is available from the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Academic advising is a critical component in the educational experience of NSU students. The full-time professional advisors guide students in planning their courses and assist with registration and other academic planning. Faculty members play an important role as mentors, for example, providing students with mentoring regarding career planning and considering and preparing for graduate or professional school. The Student Success Center also provides a Career Services Center to assist students with career planning.

STUDENT PRIVACY RIGHTS

Student records maintained by Northern State University include directory information and educational records. As custodians of student records in compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), NSU assumes the obligation to ensure full protection of student records, including maintaining the confidentiality of educational records. Student records are identified and accessed by student ID number.

NSU's student privacy policy can be found at this link: <https://northern.edu/academics/records-and-registration/student-privacy-notice> but below is a guide.

FERPA Release of Information- faculty and staff guide

NSU follows BOR policy regarding the release of directory information. Directory Information is defined as information contained in an education record of a student that would not generally be considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed. The following has been defined as directory information at NSU and can be released without the student's written permission:

- Student's name
- Grade level (undergraduate or graduate)
- Major field of study
- Graduation date
- Diploma or degree
- Dates of attendance
- Hometown
- Academic honors/achievements

THE INFORMATION ABOVE IS ALL YOU CAN GIVE OUT WITHOUT WRITTEN PERMISSION**

E-mail addresses are not considered directory information and are never released off campus. The same is true for phone numbers and mail addresses. NEVER release or post personally identifiable information such as:

- Social Security Number or Student ID (identity theft)
- Gender, race, ethnicity, citizenship, country of origin, religious preference, grades or GPA (discrimination)
- Class Schedule (stalkers)

Students are given the opportunity each semester to “Withhold Directory Information”. These students are identified in BANNER with the Warning comment:

No information shall be released on students with this coding, not even confirmation that they are a student. The appropriate response is, “I find no record of that person.”

Students who wish to permit access to their educational records or with questions should contact the NSU Registrar at 605-626-7767 or Peggy.Hallstrom@northern.edu

FERPA applies to education records at all levels of education. Once the student reaches the age of 18 OR attends an institution of higher education, regardless of age, FERPA rights transfer from the parent to the student. Education records are defined as records, files, documents and other materials that contain information directly related to a student and are maintained by NSU or by a person acting for the university, including paper and electronic. Education records include:

- Grades
- Class lists
- Student course schedules
- Disciplinary records
- Student financial records

- Payroll records for employees who are employed as a direct result of their status as students (e.g. work study, assistantships, resident assistants)
- Student-related notes, part of the student file maintained by the university

The following records are excluded from the definition of education records:

- “Sole possession” records made by faculty and staff for their own use as reference or memory aids and not shared with others
- Personal observations
- University law enforcement records
- Medical and counseling records used only for the treatment of the student- not part of the Colleague system (however, if HIPAA policy doesn’t apply, FERPA policy does.)
- Alumni records
- Peer graded papers and exams prior to the grade being recorded in the instructor’s grade book

Student-related notes recorded in our student record systems or stored in our imaging system are considered educational records and subject to FERPA. Since FERPA gives the student the right to review any or all of his/her education record, these notes could be included in that review. Therefore, it is important that notes or comments be factual and objective and that university employees who are recording notes or comments avoid making value judgements or using inappropriate language.

If a student signs a release, educational records may be shared with the person(s) specified on that release. To ensure we are in compliance with both information that is shared and to whom it is shared, requests for any information beyond directory information shall be referred to the Registrar’s Office, Financial Aid or Finance Office. These offices have access to the release forms and will request confirmation of identity:

1. Photo ID
2. Knowledge of student ID number or SS#, student date of birth, and several fields of info in datatel (high school and year of graduation, course taken prior term and instructor name)
3. For third party, confirmation that they are listed on CRI or on a release form in Image Now. Information can be returned to the listed phone, email or mailing address.

Faculty, advisors and staff may visit with parents about general policies, but are not to engage in any specific detail about a student with any third party. Faculty, advisors and staff should politely suggest the parent encourage their student to communicate directly with faculty and advisors about any issues. Parents may also be referred to the Registrar’s Office for a check to see if a release is on file and for an explanation of what information may be shared. Faculty and advisors shall not share personal records on student progress with third parties, even if the student has signed the release.

FERPA permits non-consensual disclosure of education records under certain conditions:

- To university officials (including third parties under contract) with legitimate educational interests
- To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena
- To appropriate parties (including parents of the student) whom NSU determines needs to know to protect the health or safety of the student or other individuals in a health or safety emergency situation. There must be an articulable and significant threat and records must be kept including the threat and the parties to whom information is disclosed therefore, the Dean of Students or designee shall be notified to make the decision.

- To parents in cases of drug or alcohol violation when the student is under the age of 21
- To the provider or creator of a record to verify the validity of the record (e.g.in cases of suspected fraud)
- To organizations conducting research studies on behalf of the university, provided there is a written agreement between the university and the research organization.
- To officials at an institution in which the student seeks or intends to enroll or is currently enrolled.

Since decisions need to be made about whether certain conditions are met or the release is justified and records must be kept of the disclosure, it is best for any such release to be coordinated by the office who maintains the records.

School officials with a legitimate educational interest may access student education records within the scope of performing their job duties (legitimate educational interests).

School officials are NSU employees with general or specific responsibility for promoting the educational objectives of the university and include instructors, academic advisors, admissions counselors, deans, chairpersons, directors, administrative officials, university Police, health staff, staff in Alumni relations, administrative and faculty sponsors of officially recognized clubs and organizations, official university committee members and staff personnel employed to assist university officials in discharging professional responsibilities.

It is important to understand several points related to “Legitimate educational interest.”

- Curiosity is not a legitimate educational interest.
- Simply being a university employee does not constitute legitimate educational interests. Your need to know must be related to your job responsibilities in support of the university’s educational mission.
- Your legitimate education interest is limited to what you need to know for your job.

If anyone perceives a health or safety threat, call 911 and notify the Dean of Students or designee/senior administration if the situation is immediate. Contact the Dean of Students or designee/senior administrator if you have concerns of a potential issue.

A FERPA Handout for Staff and Faculty and a FERPA Basics PowerPoint file is available from the MyNSU portal at MyNSU>Faculty Resources.

PERSONNEL POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

FACULTY APPOINTMENT

The appointment contract is normally for the academic year; separate appointments are made for the summer terms. The recommendation for appointment generally originates with the coordinator/department chair through the dean and is subject to the approval of the Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs, the President of the university, and the Board of Regents. A more complete description of recruitment and employment procedures can be found in the NSU Employee Handbook (Recruitment and Selection) and the Board of Regents Policy Manual.

Required Employment Forms

Transcripts and Credentials. Northern State University requires that each faculty member file with the Academic Affairs Office, a complete, official transcript of all undergraduate and graduate college work prior to employment, a current curriculum vita, and three letters of reference. Transcripts of work after employment shall also be filed promptly with the Academic Affairs Office.

Affirmative Action Statement

Northern State University's policy is to take affirmative action to implement and assure employment opportunities for qualified employees and all applicants for employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, gender, sexual orientation, age or disability. The following persons have been designated to handle inquiries regarding the nondiscrimination policies:

	Affirmative Action Officer	ADA Coordinator
Name:	Susan Bostian	Susan Bostian
Office:	Human Resource Office	Human Resource Office
Phone:	(605) 626-2520	(605) 626-2520

Academic Rank

Members of the regular academic faculty are eligible to be ranked at the time of appointment. Academic rank at the time of appointment is determined by preparation and experience in higher education. The minimum criteria for determining rank are set forth in BOR Policy 4.4.6 and 4.4.7.

Adjunct/Part-time Faculty

In addition to regular appointments, adjunct/part-time appointments are made occasionally to meet specific needs. Appointees enjoy the privilege and are subject to the responsibilities set forth in the BOR Policy 4.4.2.

Prior Service Credit for Tenure and Promotion

Credit toward the tenure and promotion schedule for prior service may be requested using the Prior Service Credit Form available at MyNSU>Faculty Resources. No more than two years of credit will typically be approved for prior service.

Promotion and Tenure

BOR Policy 4.4.6 contains the procedures for submitting and evaluating petitions for promotion and tenure. The major purpose of academic promotion and tenure at Northern State University is to acknowledge and reward members of the faculty for their professional competence and service to this institution. Those who have achieved the higher ranks, therefore, are those who are accorded the highest respect from their colleagues for their contributions to higher education and to the university. Promise of even further development as a scholar-teacher is always an expectation when any academic promotion is made.

Promotion and Tenure Presentation Guidelines

In 2017-18, the Promotion and Tenure Committee proposed, and Faculty Senate approved, the following guidelines for Promotion and Tenure applications. The guidelines were revised by the Committee in spring 2021 and approved by Faculty Senate on April 19, 2021. These guidelines are also available in Academic Policy 2.1.5 on the MyNSU portal.

Deans and/or chairs will provide new faculty a copy of these guidelines and meet with new faculty to discuss the promotion and tenure process within the first two months of the fall semester.

For the sake of efficient consideration of materials, consistency in submissions, and setting a standard for format and content of a successful tenure and promotion application, faculty are highly encouraged to follow these guidelines for submission of promotion and/or tenure materials.

For traditional paper submissions:

1. One large three-ring binder is typically sufficient for all materials.
2. Applications should include (in this order)
 - a. Table of Contents
 - b. Introductory letter addressed to the Promotion and Tenure Committee. This letter should clearly state for what the applicant is applying and that the applicant meets all requirements for promotion/tenure (e.g., years in service), consistent with the BOR Policy Manual.
 - c. Most recent curriculum vitae
 - d. Letters of support from dean/chair.
 - e. All additional letters of support, typically three letters. Letters from faculty, on campus or elsewhere, are preferred. Letters from tenured faculty are preferred.
 - f. All annual evaluations for period under review with supervisor comments.
 - g. Evidence of teaching excellence. All SOIs for the period under review, including ratings and student comments, will be provided by the NSU Office of Institutional Research. Faculty are highly encouraged to consult the NSU Standards Document for examples of what constitutes teaching excellence. The committee strongly recommends that submissions include:
 - i. Sample syllabi and course assignments.
 - ii. Other materials demonstrating excellence in teaching.
 - h. Evidence of research excellence. Faculty are highly encouraged to consult the NSU Standards Document for examples of what constitutes research excellence. The committee strongly recommends that submissions include:
 - i. A representative sample of research activity, such as (but not limited to) conference papers, journal articles, programs from invited or juried exhibitions/performances, auditioned positions in music ensembles, etc.

- ii. A copy of a published book or other material that does not fit into a binder may be submitted as an addition to the binder.
 - iii. Where available, acceptance/rejection rates for journals, conferences, juried competitions, etc., should be submitted. The applicant should indicate whether research activity was peer-reviewed or non-peer reviewed. Peer-reviewed material is given greater weight.
- i. Evidence of excellence in service to the university, profession, and community. Faculty are highly encouraged to consult the NSU Standards Document for examples of what constitutes service excellence.
- 3. Faculty are responsible for keeping records that demonstrate excellence in teaching, research, and service. Failure to produce such records reflects poorly on the candidate. The committee reserves the right to draw a negative inference from the absence of strongly recommended material.
- 4. The Promotion and Tenure Committee uses the NSU Standards Document to designate faculty activity as teaching, research, and service. It is incumbent on the applicant to put material in the proper category. Material improperly designated by faculty is considered under its proper designation by the committee (e.g., if a faculty member provides material as evidence for research excellence that is properly considered service, the committee will regard the material as evidence of service despite its placement in the research section of the submission). The same evidence should not be placed in more than one area. Evidence will only be considered under the area where it is rightly applicable.

For electronic/web-based submissions.

1. Web-based submissions MUST be accompanied by a “hard copy” saved on some form of portable storage (disk, thumb drive, etc.). That hard copy should be turned in to the VPAA office.
2. Electronic submissions should be in a format easily accessed by all. For example, file types must be usable on all commonly used operating systems, and websites should be viewable on the commonly used browsers. The committee highly recommends putting files in pdf form.
3. Content should follow the order and content outlined for paper submissions and be presented in a user-friendly manner. For example, it is highly recommended that electronic submissions have separate folders/link for teaching, research, and service, as well as separate sub-folders/links for discrete subjects within each folder (e.g., individual folders for conference papers, articles, and professional presentations within a research folder).
4. File names should follow the subject matter of the file so the content of the file is readily identifiable in the name (e.g., a file name “Fall 2016 SOIs”).
5. All web-based submissions should be set so that they may be viewed only by those officially involved in the promotion and tenure process.

Sabbatical Leave Policy

Faculty members may apply for a sabbatical leave per BOR Policy 4.5.3. Faculty members may be granted sabbatical leave after six (6) or more consecutive years of full-time employment in the BOR system. during the leave. The deadlines for sabbatical leave applications are available on the Faculty Development page of the MyNSU portal at MyNSU>Faculty Resources>Faculty Development. The sabbatical leave application schedule is as follows:

This includes but is not limited to: associate dean, department chair, department coordinator, or committee chair position. Faculty on sabbatical are eligible for their normal travel funds to attend scholarly conferences related to their discipline.

Faculty members may apply for a Faculty Member Improvement and Career Redirection leave per BOR Policy 4.5.3. The Faculty Member Improvement and Career Redirection Leave Form is the same as the sabbatical leave form and is available at MyNSU>Faculty Resources. Faculty members will indicate a request for a Faculty member Improvement Leave on the form.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM

Academic freedom is guaranteed to faculty members subject only to accepted standards of professional responsibility including, but not limited to, those herein set forth:

A. The importance of academic freedom to teaching and learning is recognized and accepted. Academic freedom includes the right to study, discuss, investigate, teach and publish. Academic freedom applies to both teaching and research. Freedom in research is fundamental to the advancement of truth. Academic freedom in its teaching aspect is fundamental for the protection of the rights of the teacher in teaching and of students to freedom in learning. It includes the freedom to perform one's professional duties and to present differing and sometimes controversial points of view, free from reprisal. The faculty member is entitled to freedom in research and in the publication of the results, subject to the performing of other assigned academic duties.

B. Faculty members are entitled to freedom in the classroom in the discussion of their subject. They have the freedom to include the presentation of various scholarly views.

C. The concept of freedom should be accompanied by an equally demanding concept of responsibility. The faculty members are members of a learned profession. When they speak or write as citizens, they must be free from institutional censorship or discipline, but their special position in the community imposes special obligations. As learned people and as educators, they should remember that the public may judge their profession and their institution by their utterances. Hence, they should at all times be accurate, should exercise appropriate restraint, should show respect for the opinions of others and should indicate that they are not speaking for the institution.

The complete academic freedom policy may be found in BOR Policy 1.6.2. Board of Regents Policy demonstrates a commitment to freedom of expression, as protected by the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

TEAM TEACHING GUIDELINES

Team teaching is defined as two or more instructors equally sharing responsibility for designing, planning, teaching, and assessing a course. Unlike other forms of co-teaching, team teaching emphasizes collaboration and parity. While there are different ways to organize a team-taught course, instructors should be working with each other throughout both the planning and implementation process so that all instructors are equally central to each and every student's learning experience. The NSU Team Teaching Guideline 2.1.9 and proposal form are available at the Academic Policies and Guidelines section of the MyNSU portal.

FACULTY ABSENCES

In case a faculty member finds it necessary to be absent from assigned duties, the college/school dean, upon receiving this information from the department chair/coordinator, notifies the Provost/ Vice President for Academic Affairs. Faculty absences for reasons other than sick leave, FMLA, worker's compensation, or personal leave must take a leave of absence without pay as noted on the electronic timesheet. In case of any unusual or extended absence, the Provost/Vice President advises the President of the circumstances. The Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs will make arrangements to carry on the work with a minimum loss to the students. Unexcused absence will result in a loss of pay. The fact that the professor's classes are taught does not necessarily mean that the absence will be excused. Approval other than for sickness shall be approved one week in advance by the dean or designee. The faculty absence form must be filled out whenever a faculty member is absent for any reason. The faculty absence form may be found on the MyNSU portal at MyNSU>Faculty Resources.
