8. Can an employee take the 80 (or prorated number of hours) hours of sick leave for their self-quarantine and then another amount of paid emergency sick leave for another reason provided under the Emergency Paid Sick Leave Act?
 - a. No. A full-time employee may take only up to two weeks—ten work days (80 hours)—of emergency paid sick leave for any combination of continuous qualifying reasons. A part-time employee may take emergency paid sick leave hours only up to their amount of work hours over an average two-week period for any combination of continuous qualifying reasons.

Emergency FMLA Frequently Asked Questions

1. Is Emergency FMLA paid or unpaid leave?
 - a. The first 10 (work) days of Emergency FMLA will be unpaid unless the employee chooses to use (a) the Emergency Paid Sick Leave hours to cover the leave time or (b) other applicable leave balances to cover the leave time.
 - b. After the first 10 (work) days of Emergency FMLA, the remaining FMLA leave will be paid, not less than 2/3 of the employee's regular rate to a maximum of $200 per day, for the number of hours the employee would otherwise be schedule to work if the person is unable to work (or telework) because they need to care for their child when the school or daycare has closed, or the childcare provider is unavailable, due to a declared COVID-19 emergency. The employee has the option to use their accumulated sick, vacation or comp leave balances to cover the remaining 1/3 leave time, or other amount necessary to ensure 100% pay if the employee hits the $200 per day cap.
2. Does the 2/3 paid leave count against an employee's sick, vacation or comp leave balances?
 - a. No, however, if the employee wants to receive full pay while on Emergency FMLA, he or she may use their accumulated sick, vacation or comp leave balances, as allowable based on the rules associated with the accumulated leave to be used, to cover the remaining 1/3 of the leave time, or other amount of leave necessary to ensure 100% pay if the employee hits the $200 per day cap.
3. Can an employee use Emergency FMLA for his or her illness related to COVID-19?
 - a. No, this category of FMLA is only related to child care. An employee suffering from COVID-19 may use the "standard FMLA" leave, but the special 2/3 paid leave provision will not be applicable. The employee's banked sick and annual leave, or emergency paid sick leave, may also be available.
4. Are student workers eligible for this leave?
 - a. Yes, qualifying student employees are eligible.

5. If an employee can work remotely, can the employee still receive Emergency FMLA?
 - a. Yes, if the need for an employee to provide childcare prevents them from being able to complete the functions of their position remotely, they could utilize this leave.

6. Are all employees eligible for this leave, regardless of how long they have worked for the Institution?
 - a. No, employees must have been employed by the Institution for at least 30 calendar days in order to qualify for Emergency FMLA.

7. .Can this leave be used on an intermittent schedule?
 - a. YES.

8. If an employee has already used FMLA hours, are the available Emergency FMLA hours reduced?
 - a. Yes, the 12 weeks will be reduced by the hours the employee has used for other FMLA qualifying events.

9. Is there a limit for the amount of pay under Emergency FMLA?
 - a. Yes, $200/day or $10,000 aggregate.
